Look for the Approved Specialist Certificate
BMH manufactures and distributes parts to Approved Specialists. A wide range of original parts are available to the classic car owner through these independent businesses, which represent a select grouping of the best companies in the Classic Car market.

British Motor Heritage is the world's largest manufacturer of bodysHELLS and panelwork for British classic cars and the Heritage brand is synonymous the world over with quality and originality.

Enthusiastic owners choose Heritage parts not only to ensure the originality of their motor car but also knowing that, manufactured to the original standards, they are using the very best in many safety critical areas. A genuine Heritage bodysHELL is invariably the most effective and cost efficient method of achieving a quality rebuild.

All Heritage bodysHELLS are built using the original press dies and assembly jigs which are continually inspected and refurbished as necessary to maintain optimum performance. The manufacturing process combines traditional handcrafting skills, authentic production information, drawings and patterns with state of the art technology. Only top grade automotive steel is used.

Each bodysHELL receives a coat of wash etch primer followed by one light and one full coat of high build primer. We also offer a range of additional services to customers planning a rebuild project using a new bodysHELL:

- Advice on any aspect of the rebuild direct from our experts
- BodysHELLS made for competition can be seam welded for additional stiffness

A Heritage Factory production certificate for your bodysHELL can be issued free of charge by contacting our sales department - 01993 707200.

* Tooling no longer exists for the production of the transmission tunnel for cars with a 3 synchro gear box. Bodyshells for these models can be built using a recovered, undamaged, transmission tunnel provided by the customer. Please contact sales@bmh-ltd.com for further details.

Some tooling is also unavailable for the doors and ‘B’ posts of cars with pull handle doors. These shells are produced using the later push button doors and ‘B’ posts. All shells have provision for reversing lights. On GT shells, the ‘C’ post to roof section is not lead filled leaving the customer to either fill before paint or use the ‘C’ post badges (BHH1400 & BHH1401) as fitted to later cars.

CAUTION: WEAR THE PROPER SAFETY PROTECTION DURING THIS PROCESS. REFER TO SPECIFIC PRODUCT DATA SHEET FOR APPLICATION AND PRODUCT DETAILS.

Most Original Equipment Manufacturer (OEM) parts come from the factory with a primer called e-coat. E-coat stands for Electro-deposition Coating. The part is dipped into a primer bath and the e-coat adheres to the part with the help of an electrical process. E-coat is a very durable and corrosion resistant coating so it should not be removed from the part. Most e-coat appears to be a glossy black coating.

■ 1	Review work order to ensure that all parts to be painted are present and repairs are understood.
■ 2	Inspect part for imperfections and damage. Determine what repairs should be made if any (follow all process documents for repairs made to the part).
■ 3	Clean entire part thoroughly with Wax & Grease Remover and/or SWX350 waterborne cleaner and a clean towel. Dry thoroughly to ensure there is no leftover residue.
■ 4	To determine if E-coat is stable: Test by rubbing e-coat with thinner or urethane grade solvent on a clean towel. If coating wipes off or softens significantly, it must be removed by sanding. Apply approved bare metal primer to ALL exposed bare metal areas. If e-coat is stable, proceed to next step.
■ 5	Electrodeposition Primer must be thoroughly cleaned and may then be directly overcoated with Sealer in a wet-on-wet application without abrading. <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>a. To remove minor defects – Lightly sand primer with a DA sander with 400 grit and an interface pad. Remove as little e-coat as possible.</li><li>b. If preferred, on edges, body lines and recessed areas, use a hand scuff pad.</li></ul>
■ 6	Re-clean entire part thoroughly with Wax & Grease Remover and/or SWX350 waterborne cleaner and a clean towel. Dry thoroughly. Tack off the dry part before Primer Sealer application.
■ 7	Primer Sealer must be applied to e-coat. Obtain primer sealer gray shade number (G1-G7) from color formula retrieval screen. Apply medium wet coat of primer sealer to entire part.

Jaguar enthusiasts will be well aware that the incomparable E-Type is over 60 years old. A fact being joyfully celebrated the world over.

Of course, individual examples of such an iconic model are dependent on a ready supply of spare parts for their own longevity, and for an E-Type the biggest 'must have' is that famously long snout, which is where British Motor Heritage (BMH) comes in.

As with all BMH products, the bonnets are manufactured with reference to the original drawings and using the original tools, and so are identical to those produced in period.

Each one is a true labour of love that requires the input of four highly skilled craftsmen and a total of 68 man hours – small wonder when you consider that a staggering 750 components are involved, not to mention a great deal of hand finishing.

The panels are manufactured exclusively for Jaguar Land Rover (JLR) and readily available through its dealers nationwide. Nor are they the only products now supplied to JLR by British Motor Heritage, which also manufactures some key replacement panels for the classic Range Rover.

Classic Mini

The original Mini started life in 1959 and has earned a whole cupboard-full of records that could fill many pages. Here's just a selection: The longest production run of any mass produced British car with 5.4 million made over a period of 41 years The greatest number of different derivatives, factory built worldwide, of any British model - we haven't actually counted them, but can you think of anything else that has had saloons, estates, convertibles, vans, pick ups, Mokes, warmed-up (Cooper), hotted-up (Cooper S) and superheated (ERA Turbo) versions, extended-boot luxury versions, extended-nose fashion versions.

Outstanding success in the hands of iconic motorsport heroes such as Paddy Hopkirk. When production came to an end in 2000, British Motor Heritage took over the tooling for the body panels and now continues to manufacture spares alongside complete bodyshells.

British Motor Heritage holds over 1,000,000 original engineering drawings, unfortunately these were taken out of recorded archives from the British Motor Museum at Gaydon when Rover Group was sold.

To maintain the integrity of British Motor Heritage product, we are creating a digital archive of the original drawings for use by ourselves and the heritage specialists.

They were going to be destroyed but British Motor Heritage stepped in and took delivery of 4 x 40 foot containers full of drawings and drawing cabinets.

We have now embarked on digitising all of these drawings, it is a painstaking process but eventually we will have a full library of the drawings available.

MG Midget and Austin-Healey Sprite

Jointly nicknamed the 'Spridget' these models were extremely popular with a grand total of 352,732 produced between 1958 and 1979, nearly as many as the MGB roadster. That's a lot of sports cars!

Although overshadowed by the 'Big Healey' and the Mini Cooper S in BMC's competition department, the Sprite and Midget have had their glory days, with class wins in events such as the 1961 RAC Rally, the 1963

Monte Carlo Rally and the 1965 Sebring race. They were widely used by club competitors around the world and, being very compact and agile, were especially effective in autotesting.

British Motor Heritage manufactures all the body panels and complete bodyshells for Midgets and Sprites produced from 1966 onwards and many parts for pre-1966 models.

The Morris Minor is a British economy family car that made its debut at the Earls Court Motor Show, London, in October 1948. Designed under the leadership of Alec Issigonis, more than 1.6 million were manufactured between 1948 and 1972 in three series: the Series MM (1948 to 1953), the Series II (1952 to 1956), and the 1000 series (1956 to 1971).

Initially available as a two-door saloon and tourer (convertible), the range was expanded to include a four-door saloon from September 1950. A wood-framed estate car (the Traveller) from October 1953 and panel van and pick-up truck variants from May 1953. It was the first British car to sell over a million units, and is considered a classic example of automotive design, as well as typifying “Englishness”.

Although Morris launched a new model with a similar name and a similar market positioning, the Morris Mini in 1959, the Minor remained in production for more than a decade after that, and in early 2020, its 23-year production run was counted as the twenty-eighth most long-lived single generation car in history by Autocar magazine, who called it: “...a primary way Britain got back on the road after the Second World War.”

The Triumph TR6 was the ultimate incarnation of the chassis-based Triumph TR series that had begun in 1953 with the TR2. It ran from late 1968 to 1976, just under 95,000 were built, with 91% exported, mainly of course, to the US.

British Motor Heritage now has most of the body tooling and are able to supply body panels for restoring these brawny classic sports cars.

STEELCRAFT BODY PARTS

Distributed Exclusively By British Motor Heritage Limited

Steelcraft panels are manufactured in the UK by Taylor Pressform Ltd. Production began in 1974 and further developments in manufacturing processes and materials ensure that every part is an excellent fit every time.

They are tried and tested by thousands of body shops and home restorers with years of experience. Steel dies (some weighing as much as 12 tonnes) are used to produce Steelcraft parts. This ensures accuracy and consistency during the manufacturing process.

All parts are manufactured from industry standard steel and are finished in a tough electrophoretic primer.

All product is identified by the Steelcraft parts label and part number. Select from the MG Midget/Sprite and Triumph Spitfire panels and purchase from your classic car specialists.

Tex Motor Accessories have been manufactured in England for over 50 years and are still being produced at our facility in Witney, Oxfordshire, with many of the parts still produced on the original tooling.

The company commenced supply of parts to British manufacturers in 1947 and quickly grew to be a major supplier of windscreen wipers and interior mirrors to the recovering British motor industry.

Tex established a major presence in the design and supply of vehicle wing mirrors, which were a major item for both OEM and dealer fitment all the way through to the mid-1970s. Windscreen wash systems were added to the range as they became a manufacturer standard fit.

Tex's decline as an OEM supplier was prompted by the move to the manufacturer fit of external rear view mirrors. This effectively removed a significant percentage of the company's turnover just when it needed to invest in the increasingly sophisticated wiper and wash systems that were also coming into fashion. As a result, the company was downsized and sold in the 1980s and the name changed to MRM-TEX Ltd in 1986.

The current moniker of Tex Automotive Ltd was adopted in 1995, following a move from London to Witney. The firm was acquired by British Motor Heritage (BMH) in May 2008 and relocated within our premises shortly afterwards.

Using only the best quality steel and chrome parts the foundations of the range are Classic Mirrors and Stainless Steel wiper arms and blades – standard fit on most vehicles produced between the 1950's and 1980's.

Tex can also offer a bespoke wiper arm tailored to your specific length and angle of crank, so should be able to satisfy the wiper requirements for rarest of vehicles.

Tex are also major distributors of the Renovo car care product range (specialising in hood refurbishment) and Samco Silicone hose Kits.

The Tex Automotive website has a wide range of product for the maintenance of your classic cars. Together with accessories and collectables, Tex are the complete store for the classic car enthusiast and workshop.
